

Aging and Disability Resource Center of Rock County

ADRC programs

Information and Assistance

Benefit Specialist

Dementia Care Specialist

Adult Protective Services

Aging Unit

- Rock County Transit
- Nutrition Program
- Health Promotion Program
- Family Caregiver Support Program
- Wednesday Walks
- Cycling Without Age

Who does the ADRC help?

- Adults 17 ½ or older with an intellectual disability or physical disability
- Adults 60 or older
- Caregivers or family members

ADRC as a Transition Partner

LONG TERM PLANNING

BENEFITS

DECISION MAKING

Meeting with the ADRC

1

Get to know you

2

Give you information

3

Plan for what's next

4

Help you start adult programs

Adult Long-Term Care Programs

Family Care

Family Care
Partnership

IRIS

Steps to Enroll

1. ADRC determines functional eligibility using the functional screen
2. Determine financial eligibility
3. Learn about your program options
4. Enroll in a program for long-term support

Meeting with a Benefit Specialist

- Learn about public benefits, such as Medicaid, FoodShare, and Social Security.
- Apply for benefits.
- Appeal if you are denied benefits.
- Work with partner agencies, such as income maintenance agency and Social Security Administration.

Decision Making

You want to have the most control.

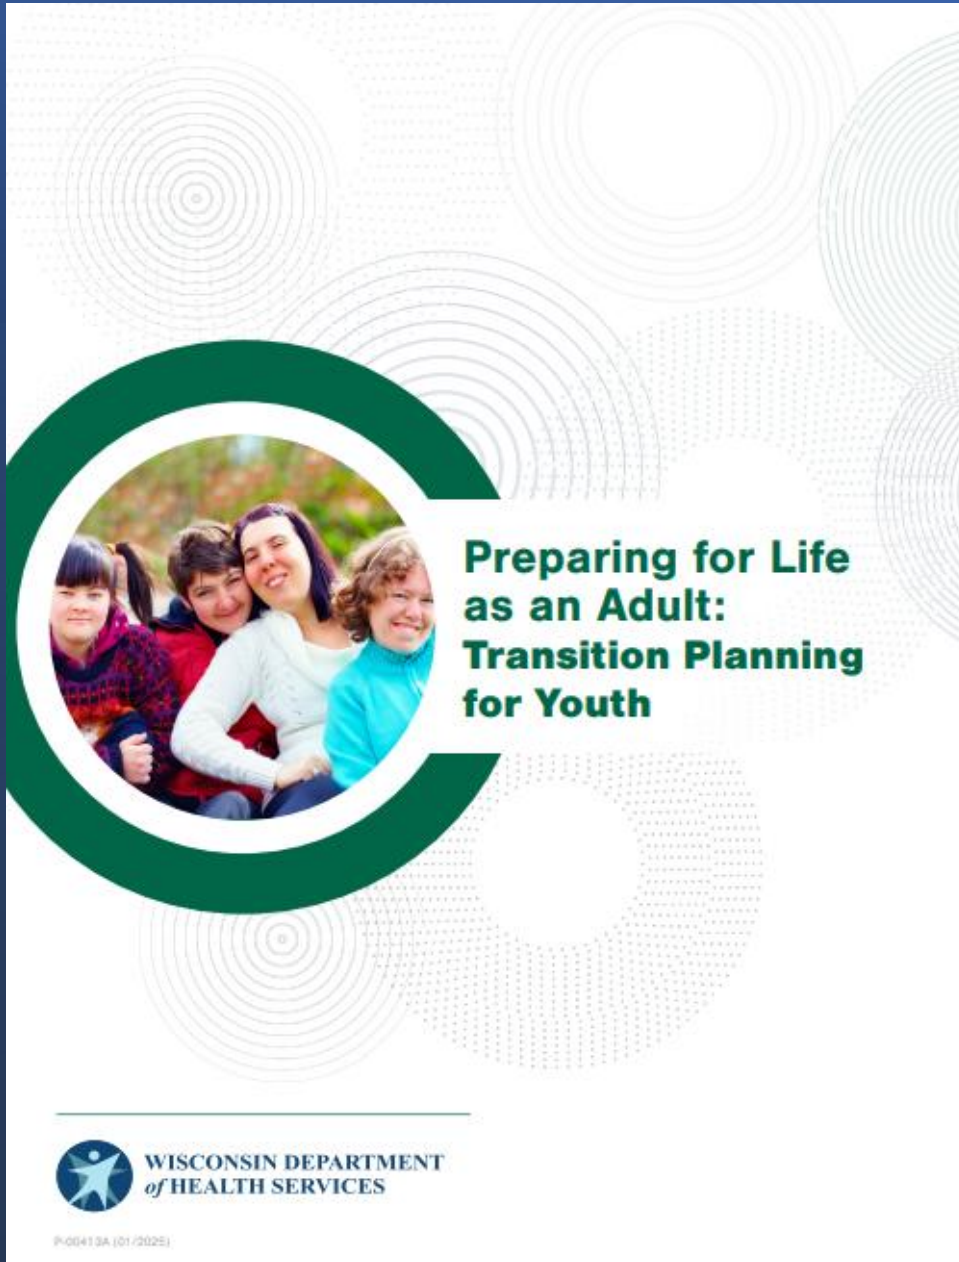

These options apply if you want to make all your own decisions with some help.

You want to have medium control.

These options apply if you want to choose who makes decisions for you when you cannot decide for yourself.

You need more help to make decisions (less control).

These options apply if you need someone to make personal or finance decisions for you

1717 Center Avenue
Janesville
608-741-3600
ADRC@co.rock.wi.us